The Adams County Commisthe last day of summer. sioners are planning to purchase are seeking bids for the equipment, with the bids to be opened October 3 at 10 a.m.

Under the plan discussed by the commissioners, the microfilming equipment will be installed in a basement room of the courthouse. Two persons will be trained to operate the machine in addition to other duties.

The plan calls for the operators to microfilm the deeds and other records as they come in, and then will also devote a day or two each week to microfilming the old rec- frost was recorded. ords at the courthouse.

EXPECT SAVING

According to the commissioners, it is estimated that the incoming deeds, etc., will keep the operators busy one or two days a week, thus providing the remainder of the week to the job of "catching up" with the records received over the last 162 years. It may take several years until all of the records are on film. The microfilming will permit a reduction in the space needed for storing old records and will make the records much more easily available to everyone who may wish

Joseph Henderson's Meeting House' at Hunterstown will be observed Sunday afternoon when anniversary services will be held in what has been know for many years as the Great Conewago Presbyterian Church there.

The meeting house label is given the building in the circular stone high above the church entrance. The building was erected in 1787, while the U.S. Constitution was being framed in New York City with George Washington presiding at the constitutional convention.

There had been a church organization at Hunterstown since George Washington was a lad of six or eight years on his Virginia plantation and there had been an early 'og church near the site of the present stone one.

Mr. Thompson, 1780, a call was made out by the congregation for the pastoral services of Joseph Henderson, just out of seminary, promising him in the faithful discharge of his duties 697 bushels of wheat for his salary. However, it was not until June 20, 1781, that Henderson was ordained and installed

The church at that time stood only a short distance from the present structure. It was built between 1743 and 1749 of unhewn logs and rough benches were used for seats. That the congregation had no house of worship earlier than 1743 is shown by the minutes of the Presbytery of Donegal. At Paxton, April 7, 1742, this congregation and the congregation of Upper Marsh Creek (now Gettysburg) asked that a committee be sent "to advise about the site of their meeting house."

A committee was appointed consisting of Samuel Thompson, William Hoe, William Kain and Benjamin Chambers "to meet at the house of the widow Jackson's on the 2nd Tuesday in May." This committee reported to Presbytery at the next meeting that 'the congregations agree that there be two meeting houses, and the people of Marsh Creek agree that theirs be near McPherson's

SHAKES MANY HANDS

Leaving the platform, he made straight for the crowd gathered behind the wire fence to shake innumerable hands thrust out of the crowd. He wasn't even distracted when a table, bearing a trio of equipment-laden news photographers, collapsed only two feet away. No one was hurt.

Then it was into the motorcade for a seven-mile tour along crowdlined streets in the borough of New Cumberland and this city. At the vast exposition hall of the Farm Show Building, Kennedy barely was able to touch his food as crowds closed in on him at the head table.

After his 20-minute, televised speech at the Farm Show Arena, Kennedy paused on the platform to reach behind the backdrop and shake hands with some of the spectators close at hand in the stands.

The road pictured here bears the time-worn marks of many travellers. Apparently it leads to some distant village or serves perhaps as a link between more vital thoroughfares.

But in reality this road does neither. Once, no doubt, it had a destination, but today it fades away into the woods a few miles beyond—a "dead

How many lives are like this road? They have promising beginnings, but instead of continuing to worthwhile goals, they wander aimlessly to final

The Church teaches us to build useful lives and guides us toward noble achievements and ambitions. Regular attendance at church services gives greater assurance that our pathway of life will not lead us astray. On the contrary, it leads straight to the house of the peaceful mind and the contented heart.

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP)-A former air transport with an outsize midsection designed to carry huge space vehicles flew 11/2 hours over Southern California Wednesday, the builder said it performed perfectly in its first flight.

The plane, an enlarged Boeing 377 Stratocruiser nicknamed the "Pregnant Guppie," needs much more flight testing before it can be put into operation, said Jack Conroy, the pilot and president of Aero Spacelines Inc.

It will carry space vehicles and equipment too large for highway or railroad transport.

DESIGN C-2022—The addition of a little greenhouse behind the garage is a pleasant addition to this lovely home. The rear terrace and the front porch overlooking the garden are both additional accents of the same sort—just enhancing the graceful air of the house. Living is comfortable and spacious in this ranch home. The living room goes through from front to back, with big windows on each end and there is a smart two-way fireplace between the living and dining rooms. The same chimney serves the outdoor barbecue that is found on the rear terrace from the dining room via sliding glass doors.

The kitchen opens out to the area, too, for quick and easy service of outdoor meals, just as easy on mother as the comfortable L-shaped work area. There are three bedrooms and a bath to complete this pretty and practical home. Area for living is 1,130 sq. ft. becue age as well as a space conquering era. The upsurge of interest in outdoor cooking, with the man of the family wearing the chef's hat, has now spread to just about every neighborhood in the country. In tune with this trend is the emergence of the patio barbecue as a prize point of decorative distinction.

Now that light weight modular cut stone is generally available, the construction of back yard barbecues that match the stone facades of homes and walls on the property has become an easy dot-yourself project.

The POWER of FAITH BY WOODI ISHMAEL

SYMBOL OF FAITH

L o each of us if we stop and remember, there is a place with which we associate the beginning of our faith. The place can be a city cathedral and a priest, or a boys club and a club leader, or a simple village church with its' spire reaching upward. The minister, the Sunday school superintendent, parents, or grandparents, may have gone long since, but each helped us along the road.

Revisiting such a place is to remember, and remembering is to realize that we too have a duty to become the inspiration for another life of faith.

ADDS LIFE TO By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) - The characters - or reasonably exact facsimilies-have been seen on a thousand and one nights of television, but NBC's 90-minute, "The Virginian" may add some new ife to the Old West. One wonders how the producers can maintain a fast pace while turning out, in effect, a full-length ilm feature a week, but the opening show of the series Wednesday night was interesting and offbeat. All that is left of Owen Wister's novel are the names. Neither the Virginian, played by newcomer James Drury, nor Judge Garth, his ranchowner boss, played by Lee J. Cobb, had much to do. Neither did the other regular characters: the town newspaper editor-a pretty girl-a pair of fun-loving cowhands and the ranch

GUEST STARS The interest centered on the guest stars. Hugh O'Brian played the mysterious avenging stranger as if he had never heard of Wyatt Amuse baby in playpen or crib Earp and Colleen Dewhurst was schoolmarm. Both were excellent. Round trip from Detroit to the end of Millions of years ago nature fash-ioned a proving ground for trucks that man can never duplicate. Today it is known as the Baja (bah' hah)

These pictures give you only a bare idea of the place. The road bears no resemblance to the modern highways on the Mexican mainland. It's fine for 140 miles below the U.S. border. Then the beating begins. Rocks and hard-baked ruts bang, punch, jab and jerk

the trucks from stem to stern. Loose sand makes them struggle and strain. Dust chokes them. Heat roasts them.

The Baja Run took this Chevrolet caravan 17 days to go the 1,066 miles. All the trucks performed magnificently. Not one was forced to drop out because of mechanical difficulty.

Trucks that can take this kind of beating can take on your toughest truck jobs. Come in now and see tough quality-built '63 Chevrolet trucks with all their new improvements.
